Early Day Ads All Promised Best Goods For Lowest Prices

One of the early newspapers of Mokena, The Advertiser, was published by Charles H. Jones but the printing was done in Lockport.

Just how often it was printed is not apparent from the copy in the archives of The News-Bulletin. The lone 81-year-old copy on hand—which was given to The News-Bulletin by Mrs. Ford June, of Joliet, who found it among some of the effects of her grandfather, the late Circuit Judge Dorance Dill—dated simply as December, 1875.

That it was printed before Christmas is apparent from one of the ads inserted by "Miss G. Weber & Sister." Miss Weber & Sister, according to the advertisement, which had a top position in Column 1, Page 1, were in a position to fill a variety of wants. They sold women's hats—in their millinery rooms—and also served the area as dressmakers.

In addition they dealt in flowers, zephyrs—and in case you may think of zephyr only as a poetic way of describing a light breeze it also is applied to fine yarn—jewelry, candies "and a large assortment of Wedding and Christmas Goods, consisting of Glass Toilet Sets, Wine Sets, Flower Sets (the spelling is from the ad) Vases &c., and a large assortment of dolls, in fact all kinds of Christmas toys."

The ladies signed off with the pledge that "we sell the cheapest of anyone in town."

This claim of low prices was a common one, according to the ads of that issue. Everyone was in on the act. Take Dr. H. W. Alexander, for instance, who operated the "Pharmacy and Family Medical Supply Store."

"Pure drugs, medicines, chemicals, trusses, dressings, medical and surgical appliances . . . pure wines and liquors for medical use, articles of diet for the sick, surgical instruments," the ad read—all sold for "as low prices as reliable goods can be sold." But no prices are given in any of the ads except for nails in keg lots.

Julius Mavis & Co., informed the world within the circulation range of the Advertiser, in emphatic italics that, "We will not be undersold on Stoves of any kind." The Marvis store was new and dealt in hardware and was located in Mokena one door west of C. Stoll & Co.

C. Stoll & Co. sold dry goods, boots, shoes, shawls, flannels—and get this, ladies—felt skirts, mitts, gloves, millinery and many other things including a lot of grain bags that could be had quite cheap.

Mrs. C. Stoll wound up her ad by declaring that everything to be found in a general country store could be found in hers. Then the punch line—"Having purchased our goods for CASH, and having no rents nor clerks to pay, we can afford to and will sell cheaper than any store in this section. No trouble to show goods."

And at the harness shop operated by Val Scheer in Mokena now, the Royal Blue Store, where one could also find a stock of bridles, whips, blankets, buffalo robes, lap robes, trunks, valises and traveling bags, one could also purchase the best brands of spring and winter flour "as cheap as the cheapest."

Mr. Scheer calls attention to the fact that all his goods are at "bottom prices," but indicates they might go lower when he ringingly declares—"I Will Not BE UNDERSOLD."

O. McGovney & Son, who also operated a drygoods store in Mokena with groceries, crockery, glassware and notions available, was not in attempting to set any records for low prices but he did advertise that he had adopted the "cash plan" and persons who came in prepared to spend money could expect to do well. "Our motto," the ad ends, "is quick sales and small profits."

John Schuberth, who ran the Mokena General Hardware Store was selling 8-penny nails for $3.75 a keg and had an ample supply of tin, copper and sheet iron—the best goods at seasonable prices was his slogan. Mr. Schuberth also sold steamship tickets.

So did Noble Jones, along with a complete line of insurance, farm implements and Florence sewing machines. Mr. Jones designated his place of business as an "agricultural depot," and he, along with Phil Reitz, also of Mokena, and A. B. Barker and Son and B. Baumgartner, of Frankfort, apparently were also cutting in just a bit on Family Medical Supply Store. They were offering the best external medicine in use, the genuine H.H.H., "safe, sure, mysterious" that worked like magic in relieving any pain or inflammation and "all other external diseases of man or beast."

There is a picture of a man on horseback that illustrates the ad. The horse is fully extended, with neck and tail

GEORGE FUNK OF TINLEY PARK DIES SUDDENLY

Is stricken with heart trouble following hard day's work.

HUNDREDS ATTEND FUNERAL

Tinley Park, Aug. 21.—George Funk, well-known Tinley Park resident, died very suddenly Tuesday evening. He had been working all day. He ate a hearty supper and just before retiring went to the well for a drink of water. Members of his family heard him fall, and when they reached his side found him unconscious. Dr. L. Eckardt was summoned, but upon his arrival found Mr. Funk beyond medical aid. He died within a few minutes after the arrival of the physician. Heart trouble is said to have been the cause of death.

The funeral was held Friday afternoon, services being held in the Sauer hall. Several hundred people attended the services. Burial in Vogt cemetery. Mr. Funk is survived by his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Herman Eichen of Tinley Park and Mrs. Clara Stevenson of Knox, Ind. He was sixty-four years old. Mr. Funk was a lifelong resident of Tinley Park. Six brothers and two sisters also survive.

A heavy wind and thunder storm swept this section Saturday night. The wind blew down a few trees and overturned hay ricks. On the Peter-

OLD RESIDENT OF FRANKFORT PASSES AWAY

Thieves attempt to rob Balchowsky store but are scared.

OTHER FRANKFORT NEWS

Frankfort, Aug. 21.—Mrs. Marie Eichenberg, aged seventy-eight years, a well-known old resident of Frankfort, died Saturday morning at 10 o'clock following an illness of several weeks. Funeral services were held Monday at 2 p. m. from the late home to the St. Peter's German Evangelical church, Rev. G. Lambrecht officiating. Interment at Pleasant Hill cemetery.

Awakened by the sound of breaking glass about three o'clock Thursday morning, Mrs. B. Zechlin awoke her husband. The latter saw two men walking on the Balchowsky store premises, and thinking the men might be some of the members of the store firm called to them. This startled the men, who fled. Mr. Zechlin telephoned to the Balchowsky residence and summoned a company of villagers by phone. The store premises were surrounded, but when the store was entered it was found that the robbers had failed to get into the building and no trace was found of them. It is supposed the robbers had an auto near by as they escaped so quickly. A ransom in a rent door had been broken when the robbers were frightened.

MATTESON COP IN A HOT FIGHT WITH NEGROES

Fugitives captured by a posse after being injured by shot.

ROB FARM KITCHENS OF FOOD

Matteson, Aug. 21.—Officer Geo. Peterson received a telephone message Thursday noon to be on the lookout for two negroes. The Tolack family reported that their kitchen had been entered the same morning and food stolen.

Get Drop on Officer.

Officer Peterson went to the "J" tower south of town and saw the negroes walking down the track. He halted them and commanded them to throw up their hands. One of the men was about seventeen years old, the other about thirty-one years. The younger man did so, but the older one only raised his left hand while with his right hand he held onto a sweater he had slung over his shoulder. When a front of the officer he suddenly threw down the sweater and flashed a gun in the officer's face and cautioned him to surrender his automatic, following which both men fled.

Posse in Pursuit.

Officer Peterson hurried home, grabbed up two guns, which he holed in his pockets, told the village people to help him catch the fleeing pair of color, and ran to Forest Hill.

Mokena Needs $2900 To Pay Street Work; To Bond Village Again

"Improving the streets of Mokena has taken much money and the village board, finding the funds available inadequate to cover all the expenses, has decided to float a $2,900 bond issue for this purpose. At a special meeting of the council, held Monday night, an ordinance was passed providing for the issuance of $2,900 in bonds to pay for the resurfacing of the village streets. The election to approve of this bond issue was held Aug. 25.

"Thus far the improvement project has cost $3,400 and another $3,000 will be required for applying the hard treat composition. The village has $2,600 in taxes coming soon so that with this amount and the proposed $2,900 issue, there will be enough money to pay for the entire job. "On the other hand there is an indebtedness of $5,600 on former bond issues still to be paid and if the proposed bond issue carries and the $2,900 additional is added to the existing bonds the total indebtedness of the village will be $8,500.

"The ordinance authorizing the new bond issue provides that the first one of the bonds to be paid will be for $400 payable on Sept. of the following years: 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929 and 1930."

Settlers-Eye View of Land, Times and People of Early Days

The pioneers of this region dated events back to the big snow of 1831. The inciting cause of the immigration which over flowed the prairies early in the 30's was the reports of the marvelous beauty and fertility of the region distributed thru the east by those who had participated in the Blackhawk campaign with General Scott. Chicago and Milwaukee than had a few hundred inhabitants and Gurdon S. Hubbard's trail from the former city to Kaskaskia lead almost thru wilderness.

Vegetables and clothing were largely distributed thru the regions adjoining the lakes and streams from the Ohio towns. Men came to the State when barely an acre was in cultivation. Some of these who settled in Chicago when that metropolis was a cheerless swampy site went southward into civilization. Immigrants from Pennsylvania in 1830 left behind them but one small railway in the coal regions 30 miles in length and made their way to the northwest with ox teams finding in northern Illinois petty settlements scores of miles apart, although the southern portion of the state was fairly dotted with farms.

The water courses of the lakes and rivers furnished transportation to the second great army of immigrants and about 1850 railroads were built. Agriculture still the leading industry was quite prosperous thru the dark portions of the early years marking the settlement of this territory.

Will County as was known to the early pioneers was largely prairie although it exhibited a great variety of soil and surface. There are several townships in which there is not a stick of timber except as introduced by cultivation. Yet considerable bodies of timber were found along the streams and isolated groves which were early called Islands. In the early settlement of the county and of the northwest generally the settlers were very careful to select locations adjacent to some grove and to secure a timber lot was deemed indispensable to settlement. It was then supposed that the prairie land two or three miles from timber would be always open to the range of cattle. The prairie was generally of the kind called high or rolling and many of the low portions were called sloughs as they contained water except in the dry season.

The system of drainage by tiles coming largely to use made the sloughs the most valuable portions of the land. The county is well watered except in the eastern township which are the highest part of the county and in which Mokena is located. The only stream running through the eastern part of the county is known as Hickory Creek and which on some of the maps was put down as Joliet River which rises in Cook County, enters the town of Frankfort, passes through it and New Lenox township and empties into the Des-plaines River in Joliet.

We often hear much made of the Indian Boundary line. The reader has perhaps observed on the maps of the State of Illinois two lines running parallel to each other and diagonally across the township, and called the Indian Boundary. The land included between these lines a strip of twenty miles wide, was surveyed in 1821 and 1822 (the Indian Title having been extinguished in this in 1818) for canal purposes, and the land lying outside of this was surveyed in 1837-1838, consequently the portion lying between these lines was brought into market earlier than the other.

At the time the first settlement of Will County the title to the land (the Indian title having been purchased by treaty) was in the United States. Acts of Congress had however been passed for the purpose of encouraging settlement by which actual settlers were allowed to make a pre-emption right as it was called, or a right to purchase to the exclusion of all others, 160 acres of land, or a quarter section, at $1.25 per acre. Land offices were established their rights and receive certificates in the form of receipts where settlers could prove up for the purchase money for which patents were afterwards given by the United States.

In tracing up the history of any locality of people, it is always pleasing to go back to the beginning of things and to learn who first trod its soil and traversed upon its streams. Such an investigation in reference to Will County takes us back to 1673 when Louis Joliet a French trader and James Marquette a Jesuit missionary, started out from Green Bay, Wisconsin on their successful voyage for the discovery of the great river which the Indians informed them flowed to the great west. Going up the Fox and across the divide into Wisconsin, they came in due time to the great river on whose ample bosom they floated as far as the Arkansas. This was far enough to satisfy them that it emptied into the Gulf of Mexico and they traced their steps coming to the mouth of the Illinois. They returned by that stream to Chicago having learned from the Indians it was a shorter route, passing of course, up the Desplaines. Tradition says that they encamped upon the mound below Joliet.

The Hickory Creek settlement included the towns of New Lenox, Frankfort, Homer etc. W. R. Rice, one of the early settlers came here in June 1829 together with his father Wm. Rice and Miller Ansley who left Fountain County, Indiana to take a look at the far west. Mr. Rice in an old letter said he struck the Iroquois which he followed to the Kankakee which in turn he followed to the Desplaines. He then went up the latter until he came to Hickory Creek, going up this a mile or two he found a Mr. Brown and old Col. Sayre living in an old Indian shanty. As well known to the settlers, Col. Sayre built a saw mill on Hickory Creek West of New Lenox where the old red mill used to stand. Mansfield Wheeler who came to this territory in 1853 went into partnership with him.

In this old mill Black Walnut and Oak Trees were sawed into lumber to supply the needs of the new settlers. It was at this mill that the lumber was sawed for the first frame house in Joliet built in 1834.

information in to the News-Bul-

EARLY DAY ADS—

stretched out and all four feet well off the ground as was the fashion to draw horses then. One could easily believe it if told that the horse was flying. But flying from what?

One wonders if man and beast have already had an application of the genuine H.H.H. or whether they are fleeing from the threat of one.

No horse illustrates the ad of John Schiek, however, who also catered to man and beast. A person could get room and board by the day or week, as well as "the best of wines, liquor and cigars" in the new brick hotel—the building now houses Dick Muehler's tavern—and one could also find feed and shelter for his horse in Schiek's livery.

A. B. Barker and Son, of Frankfort, had a store there handled everything but dry goods. It had top billing as a drug store and would qualify for one of the chain type today. In addition to medicine and liquors, the Barkers sold paints, oil, wall paper, window shades, groceries, insurance, wagons, plows, a general line of farm implements, pumps, sewing machines, washing machines and a lot of and-so-forth.

W.H. Logan of Frankfort painted houses and carriages, and August Werner, of Frankfort, made wagons as did Ruggles and Co., also of Frankfort.

One of the major advertisers was Thomas Herschbach who operated a hardware store in Frankfort and strange to relate he stuck to items one would expect to find in such an establishment, stoves—cook and parlor—a coffee roaster, which is modestly referred to as "the best thing out,"; clothes wringers, churns, gutters, water pipes, carpenter tools, building hardware, cutlery, scales, and sheet metals.

His 8-penny nails were priced at $4 a keg, which were a quarter more than Schuberth charged in Mokena.

Phillip Feil was selling reapers, mowers, threshers and the like in Green Garden. Charles Hirsch of Mokena had just gotten in his line of fall goods, dresses, shawls, ready made clothing boots and shoes, but in another item in the paper he states that he is selling out because of ill health and the entire stock will go at bargain prices in the next 30 days.

Moriarty Brothers were doing a nice business with lightning rods and Nic. Junker and Fred. Jacoby sold watches and clocks and repaired same. Apparently Mr. Junker was not sensitive for the editor has a little item to the effect that Nic. "has been a practical watch 'tinker' for the past 16 year", having learned his trade in Germany. "Mr. J.", says the editor, "does his work in first class style."

The editor apparently was having a bit of a feud with Prof. H. Y. Harding. In a one-line item he says—"Prof Harding has come out again." In another he says, "The Advertiser still survives, despite Prof. Harding," and in still another he goes into some details as to the Prof's alleged departure from conventional conduct which causes one to wonder where he had been before "he came out again" as mentioned in the first line.

The Episcopalians of New Lenox gave a sociable at the home of E. W. Wood.

Mention is made of the fact that Lockport was to have another paper, the Phoenix, to be edited by Capt. J. S. McDonald, formerly of the Will County Courier.

The editor congratulates the business men who were conducting their businesses on a cash basis, and he "doesn't mean Specie." Credit, he states, has been the ruination of many a good man.

"All, or nearly all, of the small failures," the editor writes, "are caused by allowing other to control their capital instead of themselves. To avoid these severe calamities, and restore confidence financially stop the credit business and say: Cash or no sale!"

A Code for the Small Community

"I am one of the small communities of America. I am not Chicago and I am not New York. I will respect myself. I will not indulge in self-pity because I am small. I will develop and conserve my resources. I will not fail to organize as I should, but I will not waste my energy in useless organization. I will not encourage factional strife of any kind; religious, social, or economic. Other communities may be able to endure factionalism; but my resources are limited, and they must be conserved. I am a thinging unit in America's great Republic, which is ruled by public opinion; and I will endeavor to make my contribution to an intelligent public opinion. I will not knowingly be ruled by ignorance or prejudice. All attempts to fill my mind with propaganda I will resent as an insult not to be endured."

"Because I am a community, the most important fact about me is that I have a purpose and a spirit. I will encourage all those individuals and those who try to keep their spirit and purpose free from evil and full of righteousness and good will. I will recognize that probably the basic man in my community is a farmer, a gardener, a fisherman or a miner. Were it not for these people who man the industries, my community would not exist. I will try to prosper with them and not off of them. I am a small community but I do not need to be isolated nor provincial; the goods of the world are mine, but the world expects me to provide as well as to take. I will be worthy of the wholehearted devotion of my people because I offer them a chance to secure the abiding satisfaction of life . . ."

Once the Boss-- Steam Now With Buffaloes

(From the Rock Island Magazine "The Rocket")

Rapidly passing from the American scene is the sturdy character that chews on coal and lives on steam and for generations bossed our rails and immeasurably helped to sew our continent together. Less and less frequently is his heavy step heard tramping through the night at the head of the nation's freight or rolling out the kettle-drum rhythms of speed where the nation's crack passenger trains flash and flow. His numbers grow thin and his caste recedes with the times that bore him and needed his versatile strength so badly.

Soon his robust tenor and all the swirling arias with which he is wont to accompany his labors in fair weather and foul will belong to the ages and will be heard by the living no longer. The hour of his final retirement draws near. He is singing his swan song already . . .

It has been two years now since a new steam locomotive has been ordered by any American railroad; and the jacks still left in service are drifting away, one by one, to junk yards and to park sites to sit out time, high and dry and away from the rails, in forlorn desuetude as permanent public exhibits.

As cold monuments to their former energy, deprived of the smoke and steam that once plumed their proud coming and going, silent now and fast asleep forever, these engines have turned the rails over to their betters.

Sleek and swift and perky—and as standardized as cans on a grocer's shelves—the diesels now tow our trains. They have won the race hands down. But even as we salute them and all their buzzing efficiency—and hear them reply in stony standardized measures—the real warmth of the toast on our lips is reserved for the jacks of steam that were so truly our partners in building America—and that created a world of their own as they worked.

It's especially important to treat lumber that is set in concrete, according to a forest products use specialist at the University of Illinois.

(Taken from Our Files)

Taken from our file of The News-Bulletin Aug. 18, 1922 "Mokena had a Chautaugua, back a few years ago. It was a well organized affair. John Gilmore, owner of the old mineral springs ground, offered the use of that land because it was a good location and far enough from the railroad so as not to be bothered by the noise of trains, it was accepted.

"President W. J. Kemnitz, appointed a refreshment stand committee consisting of Walter Fisher, chairman; George Wannemacher and William Semmler.

"A big ticket sale drive was launched. All single tickets for adults were 50c and 25c for children, 6 to 12 year."

Subsequent issues carried the programs which consisted of orchestra concerts, play by the Dixie Girls, "Silhouettes of the '60's," interpretative readings; play, "The Shepherd of the Hills", great Ozark play of the book written by Harold Bell Wright and lectures by prominent speakers."

Sept. 29, 1922—Charles Liess, Wm. Schmuhl, Clinton Kraus and Henry Schluntz went on a fishing trip to the Kankakee river Tuesday and had a real exciting time when Mr. Schluntz caught a 6 pound catfish.

The first school playground accident happened Wednesday night, when James Marti, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Marti Jr., was struck on the head with a swing board inflicting a deep cut. Hilmer Johnson, local Scout master happened to come on the scene when the accident happened and administered real first aid and took the injured lad home.

Sept. 22-1922 The Mokena school is now having improvements which were never dreamed of. The past week the playground equipment consisting of teter-toters, slides etc., were installed. In addition to this, one of the most important and modern improvements, was the purchasing of two Victrola phonographs for the school, to be used in teaching the pupils, not only music, but also the correct way in which to recite, march, etc. The equipment cost $350 and the Victrolas cost $115 each. In addition, city water has been installed in the school, doing away with the old time out-door pump. The board of directors felt that this school should be in the lead, and should have every modern advantage. Now, in order to climax this progressive move in betterment of the school, The New-Bulletin suggests that a Parent-Teacher's association be organized so that there will be a closer harmony and relationship between teachers and parents.

The M. E. Ladies Aid society met with Mrs. Oscar Klose last Thursday, with Mrs. Chas. Liess assisting. The annual election of officers was held as follows: Mrs. M. F. Hall, president; Mrs. Fred Hunter, vice president; Mrs. Hugh Deadmore, secretary-treasurer. Plans were discussed for the coming bazaar to be held in Hatch hall.

The Home Improvement club will meet with Mrs. Albert Maue Sept. 28 at 2 p.m.

The high school class in civics this year is to study real live problems as well as book theory. Next Friday afternoon they will debate in the class on the subject: "Resolved that the village of Mokena should provide and operate a moving picture show." Phillip Hacker is the leader of the affirmative, assisted by Francis Nelson, Walter Groth, Alvin Sorensen, Robert Maue, Hazel Cutler and Madeline Farrer.

The leader of the negative is Andrew Aschenbrenner assisted by Robert Geuther, Walter Yunker, Harold Cutler, Donald Maue, Annie Silagyi and Edna Warning.

Homecoming at Mokena

Pave First Link in Tinley-Joliet Road

Workmen this week completed the blacktopping of the first link in the road that will give a direct connection between Tinley Park and Joliet. The section on which the work was done extends from the southwest edge of Tinley Park to U. S. Route 45, on what is known as 191st st. The road continues into Mokena but the section leading into Mokena from U.S. 45 has been paved for several years. Work on the road is being done under the direction of the Will county highway department. James McCarthy is the chief engineer. Johnston Roadbuilders, a Joliet firm, had the contract for blacktopping the Tinley link.

Final Paving Eastern Link Of Tinley Park - Joliet Road

Blacktopping of the eastern section of the Tinley Park-Joliet road was completed this week, by the Will county highway department.

The surfacing operation now provides a direct and improved link between Mokena and Tinley and reduces the distance substantially.

The west section—from Cedar road in New Lenox to Gougar road on the east fringe of Joliet, will be blacktopped next summer, it was stated and if the state highway department approves plans now before it, work on the base for the middle link—from Cedar road to Mokena can be started and perhaps finished before winter.

Eventually this road will provide a route between Tinley Park and Joliet on which one may keep off U.S. Route 30 except for the short distance from Gougar road to Joliet, about two miles.

It also will enable Mokena residents and those on the west side of New Lenox to travel

Asks $10,000 for Personal Injuries After Car Crash

Albert Hentsch, a minor, formerly of Mokena and now living in Joliet, is asking judgment thru his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Michael, against Harvey Conrad of Joliet.

The suit for $11,000 damage was started in Joliet Circuit Court last Friday as the result of a two-car accident which occurred last Oct. 27 when Hentsch was traveling east on route 30 near Gougar rd., Joliet and his vehicle was smashed by a car operated by Conrad who was traveling south on Gougar road, it is charged.

The complaint states the youth was seriously injured in the crash. For his injuries, the plaintiff is asking $10,000 with $1,000 being sought by his mother, Mrs. Michael, as redress for damages to her car.

Mokena Farmer On NBC Sponsored Tour of Russia and The Ukraine

John Matasovic, farmer and owner of the Universal Welding Supply Co. of New Lenox, will visit Russia, Belgium, Denmark Finland on the Everett Mitchell NBC Harvest Tour. The invitation to make the tour was extended by Everett Mitchell who directs a farm program for the network.

Of the 18 men invited from all over the country, Matasovic is one of five from the midwest to make the tour.

The group left New York by plane last Monday. They will spend 18 days in Russia visiting Moscow, Kiev, the Ukraine region, Odessa on the Black Sea, Ula and Khrakov where they will visit a collective farm, packing houses and grain storage buildings. They will also meet with representatives of the Russian government and make a tour of industrial plants.

They will then fly to Brussels,

Belgium where they will spend two days, then to Copenhagen and Helsinki, Finland.

Matasovic then will leave the group and visit Frankfurt and Stuttgart, Germany. From there he will go to England to meet with Hereford breeders in Herefordshire, returning to the United States Sept. 6.

The agriculturist-industrialist was born in the United States, but moved with his parents to Czechoslovakia when four years old, where they lived for two years then returned to America. He moved his welding business which he had operated in Chicago for 12 years, to New Lenox in June of this year.

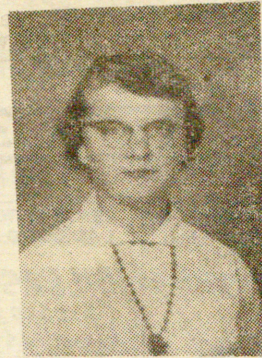

Five years ago he bought the Bruder farm in Mokena and moved in last spring. Last fall he acquired the Albert Cappel farm. His chief agricultural interest is raising registered Hereford cattle.

Opens Friday, Ends Sunday; Two Parades Will Feature Affair

Rivals in Queen Contest

These two young ladies are getting many votes in the Mokena Homecoming Queen Contest that will end with the coronation of one of them Sunday night. At left is Rosemary Dempsey and to the right is Sheila Bennett.

This is Homecoming time! There is hurry and excitement along Front street today as preparations for the 17th annual Mokena Homecoming got into swing in anticipation of the opening of the affair tomorrow night.

There will be rides, concessions, exhibits going full blast tomorrow and Saturday nights. On Sunday the program will begin at noon and continue until midnight.

There is to be a children's and pet parade Saturday night at 7 o'clock and the regular Homecoming parade with floats and bands is to begin 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The parade on Sunday will be larger than ever this year as it will be joined by units from Leonard Bros. circus which is showing here as part of the Homecoming program.

The circus will play Mokena two days, Friday and Sunday. There will be two performances (Continued to Page 4)

Circus To Show 2 Days During Homecoming

Two days of circus will give added zest to the Mokena Homecoming program this year.

Leonard Bros., featuring all types of 'big top' attractions—trapeze, animal, horse acts, with of course clowns and other features indispensable to a circus, is to show in Mokena Friday and Sunday. The Friday performances will be given on the lot behind the Shopping Bag. The circus will show at Robinson ballfield, LaPorte rd. and Wolf roads, Sunday. There will be one performance Sunday and that will be at night.

That the circus will be in Mokena two days is the result of the fact that the bookings were made by two different representatives of the show, with neither knowing the action the other had taken.

One man booked the show for Friday with Ralph Thoresen owner of the Shopping Bag. The other signed a contract with the Mokena Lions to show Sunday afternoon and evening as a part of the Homecoming program.

Thoresen booked the circus as a part of the celebration of the first anniversary of his store. He didn't know that the Lions had booked the show nor did the Lions know Thoresen had booked it.

Thoresen had purchased 1000 children's tickets which he will give out to the first thousand customers at The Shopping Bag Thursday and Friday. These tickets will admit any child, up to 14 years of age, at either the afternoon performance which is to begin at 2:30 or the night show, which starts at 8 o'clock.

Thoresen was to have received 10 percent on the ticket sale for both performances but when he learned of the conflict in dates he waived his percentage, turning it over to the Homecoming committee. The circus owners also agreed to give 10 percent of the ticket sales to the Homecoming for the Friday performances so the committee's take on that day will be 20 percent. On Sunday the Lions will receive 30 percent of the ticket sale.

Leonard Bros. has one of the

Must Have Permit To Operate Booth At Homecoming

The Mokena village board adopted an ordinance Tuesday night that affects this and Homecomings of the future, or kindred celebrations.

The measure recites that whenever an organization or organizations have been given permission to make use of the sidewalks and streets in conducting a celebration, the sponsors must furnish the village with a list of the rides, booth operators and concessionaires at least two days before the celebration is to begin.

Upon receipt of such a list the mayor shall issue permits to the sponsoring organizations covering all the rides and concessions.

The ordinance goes on to state that it shall be unlawful for any person or organization not included in the permit—with the exception of regularly established businesses of the village of Mokena—to "engage in any business, pursuit or solicitation of funds from the public."

Boiled down this means that anyone who wishes to sell anything, goods or services, in connection with the Homecoming must pay a specified share of his net receipts into the park fund unless the person or firm is regularly doing business in the village.

few tent shows in operation today.

The program includes the Aerial Townsends; LaTeresita, who electrifies audiences by catching a trapeze with her heels; Barton's Liberty Horses; Wen and Pici's, jugglers; Hugo Se'mitt who has a performing elephant; the Great Mauricio, on the high wire and others.

Thoresen has made arrangements for youngsters who accompany their fathers or mothers to The Shopping Bag Friday morning between 10:30 and 12 o'clock to get a ride on the elephant.

There will be but one performance on Sunday in the evening at 8 o'clock.

Tickets for this performance may be purchased in advance at Liston's Sweet Shop.

L-W Band Will Give Concert At School Tonight

The Lincoln-Way high school band, under the direction of Robert C. Taylor, will present its final concert of the summer season tonight, Aug. 9 at 8 o'clock on the school grounds.

The concerts are given on the lawn in front of the school and there is ample room for parking. There are chairs for those who prefer them although many persons remain in their cars.

Attendance at the series of concerts has been good, it was reported and those who have been going report them to be most enjoyable affairs.

The Band Boosters will be on hand to serve ice cream, cake, pie, coffee and pop. All proceeds go into the band uniform fund.

"This is a most pleasant and easy way in which to aid a good cause", supporters of the band pointed out. "One hears good music, spends an evening in the open and any money spent on refreshments is for an excellent cause—the band uniform fund."

The newly formed Community Grade school band—made up of youngsters from the four towns of the high school district, Mokena, New Lenox, Frankfort and Manhattan—will also present a short concert tonight.

The concert tonight will be the band's final performance before it leaves for Springfield and the band contest held in conjunction with the state fair. The Lincoln-Way band will play at 3:30 o'clock next Monday afternoon, Aug. 13.

The contest is held in the Illinois agricultural tent.

A total of 47 bands from all parts of Illinois are entered in the contest this year. From this area of the state the bands to enter the competition besides New Lenox, will represent Morris, Plainfield and Wilmington.

Engineer Gives Estimate On Sewer-System

The estimated cost of the proposed sewer system and sewage treatment plant for Mokena has been placed at only $324,240 by Robert E. Hamilton, engineer retained by the village board to make a survey and preliminary plans for the project.

The project would be financed thru general obligation and revenue bonds. Before general obligation bonds are issued a referendum must be held and the issue approved by the voters.

The sewer and sewage treatment plant, the engineer pointed out, would raise property values thruout the village.

In the proposed financing method it is suggested that the village issue $97,000 in general obligation bonds and $229,440 in revenue bonds.

Hamilton estimates the cost of the sewer system at $120,780; manholes, $23,540; lift station and force main, $21,700; sewage treatment plant, $105,000; engineering and legal fees, $20,000; land and easements, $6,000 and contingencies, $27,220.

The contingency item was added, Hamilton said, as a matter of routine in such things in the event of labor or material costs rising before actual construction can be started. There would be minor additions that would arise also, prior to final designs and during construction. It is advisable, Hamilton added, that the figures for the project adequate to cover the actual costs. In keeping with this policy another $2,200 is added so that the total amount to be financed would be $326,440.

The actual estimated cost includes an item of $10,200 for interest during the construction period. To meet such an expense the village has $8,000 representing a surplus in the water fund which could be used for this purpose, leaving $2,200 to be financed thru revenue bonds.

The revenue bonds would extend over a 35-year period, it was proposed. The yearly debt service, therefore, would be approximately $13,150.

In order to meet the obligation of these bonds and of the operating expenses of the water and sewer system, the yearly revenues must be approximately $25,900, broken down as follows:

Operating expenses, $7,500; operating surplus—40 per cent—including bond reserve, depreciation and operating margin, based on 390 customers can be $5,250 and debt service, $13,150.

The estimated yearly income expected to be approximately $25,930 a year, Hamilton said.

This amount is based on the the proposed water and sewer rate schedule on a monthly basis.

The minimum rate would be for 2,000 gallons of water, $1.50 for the water, $2.50 for the sewer, making a combined minimum rate of $4 a month.

There would be a graduate scale for additional water used as follows:

Next 3,000 gal. per 1,000 gallons, 35c water; 55c sewer, combined, 90c.

Next 5,000 gal. per 1,000 gal. 25c water; 35c sewer; 60c combined.

Next 10,000 gal. per 1,000 gal., 20c water; 25c sewer and 45c combined.

Quick tricks will make a treat of outdoor dining for the cook too! Basic formula is planning ahead.

Going to have chicken broiled over charcoal? Mix 1-2 cup salad oil, 1-4 cup lemon juice, salt and pepper to taste and take it along in a sealed container. Come time for cooking, use it to brush the chicken. (A pastry brush takes little room. You'll find it keeps the chicken juicy and adds to the flavor.)

When selecting tomatoes for picnic fare, pick the little ones. No need to bother slicing them. They can be eaten like an apple.

Business and Finance

Maurice P. Angland

Coal is coming back into its own again! The coal mines themselves and the suppliers of machinery for cutting and loading the coal in the mines, are enjoying a real upsurge in business.

The newer boilers of the leading electric power generating firms, can produce one kilowatt hour of electrical energy with 1.14 pounds of coal as against about 3 pounds only a few years ago. Modern boilers burn pulverized coal which is blown into the boilers under pressure and, in effect, is burned in suspension.

Hydroelectric power can only be generated where there are suitable water power conditions and such conditions often exist at a considerable distance from the desired market whereas coal generation plants can be located where the power is desired. Cost of installation of coal generation plants is very much lower than that for hydroelectric plants.

Many investment analysts believe that the resurgence of the bituminous coal industry is only in the infancy stages. Their optimism is fully justified on basis of 1955 production and sales figures. Coal has lost a great deal of residential heating to oil and gas, but this loss has been more than offset by increased industrial demand at home and also in the export market.

In the past the export market has not been a reliable outlet on a long range basis. Economics of the European coal industry incorporate several elements which work toward assurance of an export market for years to come. The vigorous growth of industrial requirements in Europe, cannot be supported by their own coal mines. Primarily this stems from the fact that European mines do not lend themselves to the use of mechanization. The coal seams are too thin for mechanical cutters and loaders.

A comparison of the productivity of European vs. United States mine labor, should be of interest. Great Britain produces 1.21 tons per man per day; Germany produces 1.12 tons per man per day; France produces 0.98 tons per man per day; Belgium produces 0.78 tons per man per day; Italy produces 0.63 tons per man per day; and the United States produces 10 tons per man per day.

Essential to realization of the very large export market, are adequate shipping facilities and a reasonable transportation rate structure. To insure this, the United Mine Workers Union, several important bituminous coal producers, and the principal coal hauling railroads, have joined to form the American Coal Shipping Inc. The principals in formation of this firm expect to put up about $50 million as initial capital. Their stake in continuity of this large export market is very large.

No Skyscraper Campus For New U. of I. Division

Experiences of seven metropolitan universities, including two with "skyscraper" campuses, were studied before the University of Illinois selected a suburban site for the relocation of its undergraduate division now operating on Navy Pier.

The university's trustees recently recommended purchase of Miller Meadow, 300 acres of farmland owned by the Cook County Forest Preserve District, as a permanent site for the Chicago Division.

According to a report released here today by President David D. Henry, representatives of all seven institutions advised against high rise buildings. Their objections included high capital costs; high cost of operation and maintenance; the loss of usable floor space required for elevators, stairs, and increased corridor width; elevator traffic problems, and the effect such facilities have on students' attitude toward the educational program and the administration.

"This results from the lack of opportunity to go outdoors periodically through the day, the frustrations resulting from rushing from class to class in crowded elevators, and the delays in waiting for elevator service," the report states.

These were among the findings of a committee headed by C. C. Caveny, dean of the University's Navy Pier division, which visited the universities of Akron, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Wayne University, and Queens, Hunter, and Brooklyn colleges.

Parking space, student lounge, study and food service facilities were found to be inadequate at all seven institutions visited. It was also reported that none of the schools provide indoor drill space for the ROTC, or any land for this use alone. Campus or athletic fields are used.

Preliminary plans for Illinois' suburban campus call for 45 acres to be used for physical education, ROTC, and physical plant service, and 30 acres for parking.

The visitation committee concluded that the principal differences between resident and urban universities appears to be that:

1. Urban universities require more space for student services such as lockers, study facilities, food service, etc., due to the fact that students are on the campus for a longer period of time.

2. Less emphasis is given to, and therefore less facilities are required for, physical education and ROTC programs. This appears to be due to the increased travel time on the part of the students and their need to work.

3. The need for parking facilities may be greater.

4. Student housing facilities are not essential for urban universities.

Does an outboard motor scare fish with noise and propellor action?

table and in many a camp. Extensive research by the Johnson Motor company, maker of Seahorses, shows that the answer is "No!"

An idling propellor, in truth, tends to attract fish. Idling, we say, not roaring, love to lurk in riffles and near where streams enter lakes. They wait for what the moving water brings them. And the gentle rattle of the idling propellor seems to indicate to a fish that here is another food source.

For the trolling fan this is important news. It means that a short line often can be more effective than a long one. That is unless you have to use a lot of line in deep water to get down to fish headquarters.

The Johnson research figures also are bold enough to point out that only about 50 percent of lures offered today are designed correctly for trolling. The research board, which is non-commercial, does not mention any lures by name but the general information is good to have. There is nothing more irritating than to find the lure you selected because it looks well in a box gets only a derisive stare in action.

The researchers also put a new wrinkle in the saying, "When trolling, slow down." There are lots of times, tests showed, when fast trolling is better. This is particularly true in the spring and fall when fish get to feeling frisky and like to show their speed. They also hit a fast lure harder and are more likely to stay hooked.

Regarding color the research showed that some fish apparently can tell some color but don't give much of a whoop. So select the color that please you and the fish will agree.

Another suggestion was to use the outboard in the hours when fishing is dull to look over the water and find out where they are at the moment. It will save time later.

Final admonition was regarding the best time to go fishing. Here it is—"Whenever you have the time or can sneak out of the house."

Enjoys Gifts From Lions Club

Youngsters in Mokena are enjoying themselves at the village park these days thanks to the installation of eight additional swings by the Mokena Lions club. Four of the new swings are for the real small fry with box seats with bar across front to prevent the small fry from falling out, and the four swings for the older children have modern canvass seats. There is also other playground equipment at the park. (News-Bulletin Photo) will be Sheriff Roy C. Doerfler, State's Attorney Frank Masters, Jr., and Mrs. Lowell P. Merrell, of Cherry Hill, a past president of the Joliet Floral club. The winners will be announced immediately afterwards and trophies awarded.

George H. Bills, president of the Mokena Civic Association is general chairman of the Homecoming committee. Norval Robinson is in charge of the parade, and James H. Wrath is doing double duty this year, as treasurer and master of ceremonies.

The queen contest, of which Mayor John Scarth has charge, has but two entries this year, Sheila Bennett and Rosemary Dempsey. The winner will be announced Sunday night at 10 o'clock, when she will be crowned by Beverly Lauffer, the 1955 Homecoming queen.

Miss Lauffer will preside at the opening of the Homecoming tomorrow night and will also lead the parade Sunday afternoon. Similar duties will be followed next year by the queen named Sunday night. This is a new arrangement. Heretofore the reign of a Homecoming queen was limited to possibly one and certainly not more than a couple of hours.

Bands and floats will mark the parade Sunday and the affair is expected to draw a large crowd of visitors.

That is the primary purpose of Homecoming, to attract a large number of visitors to Mokena, especially former residents of the area. In addition to the renewal of friendships, however, there is another purpose—to raise money for the support of the Mokena park program.

Mokena has a community park but there is no park district, supported by tax money, to operate and maintain it. The park is supported mainly thru the Homecoming. All the concessions pay 50 per cent of their net into the park fund. There are other contributions from time to time but the main source of revenue to run the park is the Homecoming.

The auxiliary of Martin post, VFW, will have a float in the parade and its members will march but they will not operate a booth this year. Instead the unit will donate $10 to the park fund. Mrs. Glenn Peterson and Mrs. Russell Stankus are decorating the float.

The children's parade is to form at 6:30 Saturday night at Florey's service station and will move off promptly at 7 o'clock. In previous years the children's parade preceded the main parade on Sunday by an hour. This year it was decided to have the youngsters' parade on Saturday night. It will be easier on parents, it was pointed out. Under the new system a parent does not need to rush to get junior ready, see that he reaches the point where the parade is formed, watch said parade, and then go tearing off to get ready for the main parade.

Charles Swanberg and Ray Hoolehan are vice chairmen of the operating committee for the homecoming. Also on the committee are Walter Spiewak, president of the Lions club, Ralph Thompson, Mrs. Fred Lehmann and Mrs. Warren Mancker.

In addition to the concessions and the various rides there will be a number of exhibits and a special tent will be erected for this purpose. The exhibit tent, the rides and the concessions will be strung along Front street for approximately three blocks.

Joan Blondell Stars in Next Hinsdale Play

Joan Blondell will star in Arthur Laurents' comedy, "The Time Of The Cuckoo" at the Hinsdale summer theater, beginning Monday, Aug. 13 for a two week run.

Miss Blondell will play Leona Samish, the attractive, witty American and Rene Paul will portray the Italian DiRossi, a man most women are attracted to and most men like.

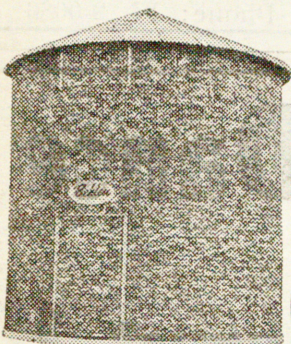

Independent but lonely, Leona's European visit narrowly misses being just a series of guided tours, until the day she happens to stop in at DiRossi's shop.

Performances are nightly at 8:30 p.m., "early-bird" curtain at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday matinee at 2:15 p.m.

Now playing at the Hinsdale summer theater is the Sidney Kingsley "Detective Story" starring Charlton Heston and Lydia Clarke, which will end its run on Saturday, August 11th.

Infant Drivers

There is a state law which forbids children of 14 or under to drive a car, with or without the supervision of an adult possessed of a driver's license.

It is true that the legislature has been lenient—too lenient many claim—in allowing a child of 16 to get a driver's license and permits a 15-year old infant to obtain certificate which allows him to drive if an adult—with a driver's license—is in the seat beside him. But a child under 15 has no right to drive a car whether accompanied by an adult or not.

Some parents—either too weak to say no to a child's demands to drive, or think it just too cute to see little Johnny or little Jane behind the wheel, or are utterly selfish and have no regard for life or property of others, or are just plain so-and-so fools, choose to disregard this statute.

This can be tragic. In Joliet this week a 14 year old girl, accompanied by her mother, made a right hand turn from one street onto another. She made the turn but failed to straighten the wheels. The car ran up on the sidewalk and killed a two-and-a-half year old child.

The mother of the driver was arrested, charged with allowing a minor to drive a car without a license. This is not going to restore the dead child to life, or bring comfort to its grieving parents. The whole incident, however, may serve as a warning to parents who allow their offspring to drive illegally.

What's Your Hurry?

We Americans have a high regard for speed. The fact that we make things faster and distribute them faster than other nations has a great deal to do with our economic strength. In sports we like fast moving games, or most of us life is geared to a pretty swift tempo.

But there's a price for everything, including speed. And the staggering toll of traffic deaths and injuries plus the fact that speed is involved in the vast majority of them makes it plain that speed has no place on the highway.

It's rather interesting to note that safety authorities don't limit the speed menace just to exceeding the speed limit. They list failure to yield the right of way, passing without caution, driving too fast for road and weather conditions and driving too close to the car ahead as symptomatic of the "hurry complex" that causes accidents.

That "hurry complex" is the target of the "Slow Down and Live" campaign on the highways of the nation this summer. Don't hurry so much and live longer.

All of us at some time or other have thrilled to the beauty and majesty of the mighty ocean. These things, like our whole world, are a reflection of the beauty and majesty that is God.

But if the whole world reflects the beauty and glory of God, however imperfectly, then nothing in the world is a greater reflector of God than man—for man is made in the image of God and everything in the world is made for man.

Everything in the world exists to help man get to God, for getting to God is man's destiny. But to get to God man must look for Him and he must listen to Him.

True, man can find God in the beauty of the sky and the majesty of the sea, for God is reflected in these things and in all His creation. But man is more than a creature with eyes. He has ears that hear words and even more he has a mind that understands words and the things he sees.

Man has a mind that is made for truth. He must see the truth in the creation around him and reason to the fact that God is and that He is man's support in existence. But man's mind is capable of more truth than this.

The mind of man is capable of learning something about God—what He is like; what He thinks about man—and other profound truths. But to get this truth man must listen with his mind—he must listen to the words of God's revelation to man.

Everyone of us hears and sees countless billions of spoken and written words during our lifetime. We hear complimentary words and flattering words; we hear unkind and cutting words; we hear mean and even unclean words. Naturally it is not in these words that we will find God's revelation to us of what He is like and what our destiny is.

But fortunately these soothing and consoling words of God's revelation do exist. At the beginning of his gospel, St. John writes, "In the beginning was the Word." This word was the only-begotten Son of God, having eternity.

One day about 2,000 years ago the nature of God from all that WORD of GOD, the Son of God, became man. The WORD of GOD came to bring to all men God's words of salvation.

Today we can hear those saving words; we can follow them and find happiness. But we must open our minds and hearts to these words, the words that contain the truth brought to the world by Jesus Christ, true God and true man.

Theresa Molitor, Dudley Buck Recite Vows in Orland Church

Orland Park Methodist church was the scene of a lovely summer wedding, Saturday, Aug. 4 when Miss Theresa Molitor became the bride of Dudley Buck. The Rev. Robert L. Plastow, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony which took place at 3 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Molitor, 168th st. and Wolf rd., and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buck reside at 143rd st. and Raney's lane in Orland Park.

The church altar was decorated with pink and white gladiolas and lighted candelabra.

Mrs. Alma Rauch presided at the organ and played a group of songs as the guests were assembling. She also accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Helen Sandell when she sang "Because", "I Love You Truly" and "O Perfect Love."

The bride was escorted by her father. She wore a floor length gown of white satin, lace and tulle entrain. Her finger tip veil was attached to a Juliette cap. She carried a colonial bouquet with a purple orchid surrounded by white carnations and stefanotis and white satin ribbon. Her choker pearls and ear rings were a gift from the groom.

Miss Carol Molitor, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a yellow floor length gown of nylon and chiffon and lace bodice matching head piece with lillies of the valley. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and ribbon. The Misses Doris Cooper and Marilyn Hohenstein were the bridesmaids and Linda Buck, sister of the groom was junior bridesmaid. Their gowns were of lilac nylon and chiffon, lace bodice, fashioned identically to that of the maid of honor, with matching head pieces. Their bouquets were yellow mums and carnations respectively. Each attendant wore a rhinestone necklace with matching ear rings, the gifts of the bride.

Harry Wydeveld was best man, Paul Ebeling, groomsmen and Jack Ludes and Tony Molitor were ushers. The men were attired in summer tuxedos with a boutonniere of white carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Molitor chose a powder blue cotton lace dress with blue accessories, and the groom's mother wore a navy blue dress with blue accessories. Both mothers had white orchid corsages.

A reception followed in the evening at Saenger hall in Tinley Park where about 250 guests enjoyed a buffet supper and dancing.

The bridal table was centered with a huge three tiered wedding cake. The newlyweds left for a two weeks western honeymoon trip and upon their return will reside in Tinley Park.

As the guests were assembling, Kenneth Duchac, organist, played a selection of chorales, preludes and arias by Bach. The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride chose a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over bridal taffeta and carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid. Her veil was fingertip length.

Miss Margaret Shipman of Flat Rock, North Carolina, served as the bride's maid of honor. She wore a princess style dress of pink crystalette and carried an arm bouquet of pink and white summer flowers.

An Idea Becomes A Fact

The women pictured here became imbued with the idea of establishing a library in Tinley Park and the library is now a fact after many months of hard work and sticking closely to the task at hand. They were assisted by the Tinley Park Lions club and other organizations, plus many individuals. The library occupies temporary quarters now, quarters that are on loan by George Hartmann, a real estate dealer, but eventually the women hope to have a building erected on ground donated for library purposes donated by the Tinley Development Co. In the picture (left to right) are: Mrs. D. W. Gruber, Mrs. Walter Reed, Miss Olive Pillsbury, Mrs. Voris Miller, Mrs. Walter Fierke, Mrs. Leland Rayson, Mrs. Irwin Johnson and Mrs. Melvin Rensink. (Times photo.)

Art, Handicraft Classes At Park Well Attended

Mrs. Rudolph Engelhardt has been conducting a successful handicraft program at the Mokena Community Park every Wednesday morning from 10 a. m. to noon. An average of 24 youngsters have been participating in this program. Because of the age difference in the children, she has been assisted by the following: Mrs. Loren Collins, Mrs. Fred Pandow, Mrs. Fred Lehman, Mrs. George Stanis, Carol Gilmore, Marilyn Ambuehl, Bonnie Bruce, and Betty Lehman. The program ended yesterday,

Aug. 8, but Mrs. Lehman and her daughter, Betty, are going to finish out the park season with story telling, songs and games from 10 o'clock to noon Aug. 15 and Aug. 22. It is hoped by those in charge that the children continue to come to the park on these Wednesdays as well as the other days of the week.

Mrs. Herman Lorenz taught art on Thursday afternoons from 1 to 3 o'clock with an active group between the ages of 8 to 12 participating. This group was especially enthusiastic about water colors and painted some very interesting studies. They also learned to use charcoal and chalk, and sketched some lovely farm scenes. Plants and fruits were used as "models" in the still life classes while the children modeled for each other for the charcoal portraits.

The community of Mokena is grateful to these women and girls who volunteered their time and energy to bring such worthwhile programs to the children, a park board spokesman said. Mrs. Albert Zemeske plans a photography class for the last two Thursdays, Aug. 9 and 16, of the park program. Children interested in learning photography should bring their camera and film to the park on these days and Mrs. Zemeske will teach the proper loading of film, and the right way to take successful pictures.

J. Herbert Wrath reports a most successful season at the park this year with the average attendance considerably above that of last year.

"Sweets to the sweet" was originally said by Shakespeare in last act of Hamlet.

PTA To Launch Bicycle Safety Drive in Mokena

Bicycle Safety was adopted as the theme for the coming year at the executive board meeting of the Mokena Public school PTA held Monday evening, Aug. 6, in the home of the president Mrs. George Bills on Parker road. Those in charge hope that the children will become more aware of safety in cycling in the future by means of slogans, movies, and a poster contest to be held later.

This program will be conducted with the cooperation of the Boy and Girl Scouts and St. Mary's parochial school. The committee in charge of the bicycle safety campaign is comprised of Mrs. Albert Jenner, chairman, Mrs. Robert Gilmore, and Mrs. Loren Collins.

The PTA also desires to initiate safety patrol system for the protection of the small children crossing Wolf road at the new school.

Plans were discussed for the coming year and a tentative program was set up so that year books will be ready for all members at the September meeting.

A unanimous vote was cast to operate a plastics booth at the Homecoming celebration this year with Mr. and Mrs. Norval Robinson in charge.

Present at the meeting were Mrs. George Bills, president; Mrs. Everett Heinecke, vice president; Mrs. Harold Behen, secretary; Mrs. Robert Lang, treasurer; Mrs. Wendell Hamilton, program; Mrs. Fred Clark, hospitality; Mr. and Mrs. Norval Robinson, budget; Mrs. Lawrence Isfel, membership; Mrs. Albert Jenner and Mrs. Robert Gilmore safety and Mrs. Thomas Hull, publicity.

U. of I. Considers 7th Graders In Picking 1963 to Open Branch

When the University of Illinois selected 1963 as the year for moving its Chicago undergraduate division to a permanent location, it favored several thousand Chicago-area youngsters only going into seventh grade this fall. In that year these students will be in the freshman class that will cause the University to overflow its quarters on Navy Pier.

Many of these students will have decided, before entering high school, whether or not they will go on to college, according to a report released here today by University President David D. Henry.

The report submitted by C. C. Caveny, dean of the Undergraduate Division, shows that 44 percent of the students now at Navy Pier decided to go to college before they entered high school. Two thirds of them made the decision before entering their senior year in high school.

University trustees recently recommended purchase of Miller Meadow, 300 acres of farmland 11 miles west of the loop, as a permanent site for the division which has been located on Navy Pier for 10 years.

In setting up the time table, the University used extensive population studies. Its enrollment predictions are based on actual births, combined with data showing the proportion of college-age students which can be expected to attend institutions of higher learning.

Dean Caveny's report also showed that 70 percent of its entering freshmen are in the upper half of their high school graduating classes. Of last year's entering freshman class at Navy Pier, 34 percent were in the top quarter of their graduating class, 36 percent in the second quarter, 19 percent in the third quarter, and only 11 percent in the lowest quarter.

Most of the present students finish their college work at the University's main campus at Urbana-Champaign. After taking their first two years at Navy Pier, 46 percent go down-state, 34 percent finish at other colleges in the Chicago area, nine percent go elsewhere to college, four percent go to work, and two percent enter military service.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. (Matthew 16:24.)

One of the most beautiful words in any language is SACRIFICE. We associate it with the rich, sweet, and beautiful self-giving experiences in life.

I recall such an experience during the depression days. My mother, a devoted Christian, had a very limited income. It was her wish to subscribe for a splendid religious periodical for my brothers and me. Out of her limited income she expected to pay for those subscriptions. When I discovered it, I chided her and refused to allow her to pay for them. I shall never forget the pained expression on her face. Tears flowed down her cheeks as she said, "But I want to; it gives me great joy."

The true Christian does not look upon such sacrifice as self-denial but as a privilege, an opportunity, a joy. This is the kind of sacrifice that God blesses. It enables His church to grow and to prosper. For those would be true followers of Christ, the thread of sacrifice must run through all of life.

PRAYER

O God, forgive us wherein we have thought more of ourselves than of Thee and of others. Forgive us for accepting the lesser values. Grant us strength of mind and soul to find meaning in every sacrifice we make as Christians. In Christ's name we pray.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

God will help me to do more than is required.

Charles W. Grant (Tenn.)

FINISH PAVING—

back and forth to Joliet without using U. S. 30.

Route 30 is narrow and pretty much taken over by trucks and transients.

From Tinley Park to U. S. 45 the road is known as 191st st. It continues west into Mokena and that section has been blacktopped for a number of years. The road goes thru Mokena following Front street. West of Mokena it has two names, Hamilton road for a few blocks and then Francis road for the rest of the way to Gougar rd.

Work on the rebuilding and paving of the road is a part of the Will county highway program. Financial aid is being given by the state.

Will County Highway Engineer, James McCarthy said this week that he expected the blacktopping of the Gougar-Cedar road section would be done next summer.

Right-of-way for the section between Cedar road and Mokena were purchased this year and plans for building the base for that link are now before the state highway department. The state highway department rejected a set of plans filed earlier this summer because they did not eliminate a curve about three-eighths of a mile west of Wolf rd. The present plans would bring the road to that point and the three furlong stretch would be finished later.

The county believes it has a good chance to get approval on the present plans and if given work will be started as soon as a contract could be let. With a break in weather it might be possible to do the work before winter sets in, it was said. McCarthy said that to stop now and iron out differences with the state on the three-furlong piece just west of Wolf Road could delay the project another year and a half.

The road between Tinley and U. S. 45 is blacktopped for a width of 20 feet. That will be the width of the paved section the rest of the way to Gougar road. The right of way is 70 feet.

Boat and Trailer Stolen on Route 45

George Hensel, of 4324 Church st., Skokie, was driving along U. S. 45 Sunday afternoon towing a boat trailer and boat, when the car developed engine trouble. He pulled off onto the shoulder of the road near the WLS transmitter. Hensel went for help and when he returned the car was still there but the trailer and the boat, a Huntcraft with two cockpits, had disappeared. State police from the Joliet District No. 5 are investigating.

A train's whistle sounds higher as it approaches because more vibrations per second reach the eardrum.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

How Christ Jesus healed sickness and discord of every kind will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday, Aug. 12.

The Master's reply to the messengers of John the Baptist will be included in the Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul" (Luke 7:22): "Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things you have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached."

Among the correlative selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (210:11-16): "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation."

Woodlots Bring In Substantial Sum to Farmers

Illinois' forest industries provide farmers in the state with a market for more than $630,000 worth of forest products annually.

In addition, farmers are using huge volumes of timber from their own woodlots for farm structures, such as houses, barns fences and pens.

Citing figures from the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture's newest agricultural census, A. C. Foley of Paris, chairman of the Illinois Forest Industries committee, said the vast market for farm woodlot products in Illinois reflects the growing importance of good timberland management and forest fire protection.

Foley's committee is state sponsor of the tree farm program, an industry-sponsored movement to encourage the protection and proper care of privately owned, taxpaying forest land and the harvest of tree crops in a manner which will insure continuous forest growth. The program is sponsored nationally by American Forest Products Industries, Washington, D. C.

Foley predicted that sales of forest products from Illinois farm woodlots will expand as the concept of tree farming—growing timber as a crop—takes hold in public consciousness.

Illinois counties in which sales of farm woodlot products exceed $10,000 annually are Carroll, Cass, Champaign, Clay, Edwards, Fayette, Franklin, Fulton, Jersey, Macoupin, Marion, Monroe, Ogle, Peoria, Perry, Pulaski, Randolph, St. Clair, Schuyler, Shelby, Whiteside and Winnebago.

Illinois state forests are located in Henderson, Mason and Union counties.

Tinley to Play for Small Fry Title

Most Valuable Player

Jerry Miller, 15-year-old pitcher for the Tinley Park Police League nine, is shown here receiving congratulations from Coach Bill McBurney for having been selected by his mates as the team's most valuable player. Miller has pitched four games for the Tinley team in league play this season and has won all of them. (Times Photo)

Victory Sunday Will Bring Title To Tinley Police Circuit Team

By Al Rodger

Police chief Harold C. Moore, officer Pete Seeley, William McBurney, coach and manager, and his assistant Joe Diamond are delighted with the police team's record in the league. With but one more game to play, the team has had but one loss to Matteson earlier in the season. Last Sunday they beat Matteson 5-0. If they win the last league game with Robbins this Sunday, they win the southern Cook County championship.

The local boys scored one run in the opening inning with Matteson last Sunday when Jerry O'Neil, first batter, flied to short Les Borms and Roger Hug followed with singles and Borms scored after stealing second and third. Bob Rodger walked, but Jerry Miller and Gary DuBois struck out ending the inning.

From the first to the fifth inning it was a pitcher's battle between Miller and Dahlman, but the Tinley crew scored four runs in the fifth when Joe Lucas singled, Mortinson fanned, Jerry O'Neil flied out to third, but Borms came thru with a home run scoring Lucas. Hug singled, went to second on a passed ball and scored on Rodger's single to center. Dale Hartwig singled, Rodger went to second and scored when Miller was safe at first on a dropped ball after a third strike and A. Buckmeir threw wide to third.

Jerry Miller was the winning pitcher, allowing three hits and striking out eight.

Dahlman was the losing pitcher, fanning eight and allowing eight hits.

The police department and Coach McBurney appreciate the interest taken in these games. They invite baseball fans to come out and see the last league game between Tinley and Robbins this Sunday at 2 p.m. on Meets Peotone In First Game Sunday at 2 p.m.

The Tinley Small Fry are north sectional champions in the Tri-County league by downing Manhattan last Thursday 13-0.

They will play Peotone for the league championship beginning next Sunday in Tinley at 2 p.m. The second game will be played in Peotone, Wednesday, Aug. 15. The time and place of the third and last game should they tie in the first games, will be decided later.

Jerry Romanenghi, pitcher for Tinley, allowing only three hits in the Manhattan game.

Tinley scored one run in the first inning on Mike Meakim and Jim Casey's back to back doubles. The home team scored six runs in the third and fourth innings to rout the invaders.

The Robbins boys accounted for all Manhattan hits.

Robinson Back On Track After Arm Fracture

Sam Robinson will be back in the midget auto racing lineup Saturday night at Joliet Memorial Stadium and judging from past performances, may provide Bob Tattersall, the Streator streak, with all he can handle.

Robinson, the Joliet veteran, first returned to action last week after recovering from an arm fracture received at another track earlier this season. He placed second behind Tattersall in the feature as defending track champion Bob won his third straight main event.

As an added attraction to the regular seven-event program, "half pint" midget autos will appear in an exhibition event. The "half-pints" are small duplicates of the larger cars and are driven by youngsters who range in age from 6 to 16.

Several drivers who have been coming on fast as the season progresses will be out to stop Tattersall and Robinson. Among them are Mike King of Evanston, Tony Lenti and John Lodi of Chicago, Johnny Riva of Morton Grove, George Petit of Maywood, Phil Ashline of Kankakee and Jolietans Corky Singer and Bernie Wilhelm. Wilhelm is in the Army, but comes home on week-ends to compete in the races. Time trials Saturday will start at 7:30 p.m. and the first race at 8:30 p.m. There will be four heat races, a handicap event, 15 lap semifeature and 25 lap feature.

Sports Jamboree - Junior Size - Opens Tomorrow

A relay of 40 torch-bearers, running the distance from Chicago City hall to the Hanson Park stadium in 440-yard stretches, will signal the start of the first annual Junior Sports Jamboree tomorrow morning.

Dressed in replicas of the official Olympic track uniform, the boys will leave city hall at 9:30 a.m., passing the flaming torch from one runner to the next until it finally reaches the park stadium, approximately one hour later.

The torch parade will move north on LaSalle street from the City hall to Lake street, west on Lake street to Milwaukee avenue, northwest on Milwaukee avenue to Fullerton avenue, west on Fullerton to Central avenue, and directly into the park.

With the arrival of the final runner the opening ceremonies will begin, and the torch will be placed in an urn at the entrance of the stadium, to burn thruout the two-day meet.

Tigers Wallop Lansing 16-9 to Hold 2nd Place in Suburban Loop

The Tinley Tigers scored their third consecutive league victory by downing Lansing last Sunday, 16-9. They now have a record of three wins and one defeat for the second round of play and still leaves them in second place and very much in the race. Flossmoor is currently leading the field with a perfect 4-0 record.

Lansing opened the game by producing two troublesome runs to take an early 2-0 lead. Tinley came back in their half and narrowed that margin to one run, but it was not until the third inning that they began to roll. Ron Shaper opened the Tiger third by drawing a walk. Four consecutive hits produced five runs for the Tinley team. With Shaper on base, Dave Morlock and Dan Anfield singled, Shaper scoring on the last hit. Paul Ebeling then stepped to the plate and pounded the ball over the left fielder's head for a 3-run homer. To top it off, Les Beccue added the final run of the inning with a back-to-back homer, his traveling in right-centerfield.

A four-run margin appeared to be good enough until Lansing batted in the fourth and added 3 more runs to bring the score to 6-5. Tinley added one more in the fourth, but Lansing came back with 2 in the fifth to knot the score at 7-all.

After a brief intermission of rain, the Tigers came up with four runs in the bottom of the fifth. With one out Al Heller drew a walk and Ron Harnack singled. Both men advanced on a wild pitch. Don Kuech then came thru with a single to left, scoring these men. Dean Taylor then doubled but Kuech was out at the plate trying to score. A double by Ron Shaper scored Taylor and while the outfielder was kicking the ball around, Shaper came all the way in to score. With a 11-7 margin, Tinley added one run in the sixth and four more in the seventh. Dave Morlock reached base on an error and went to third on Anfield's double. Paul Ebeling drove the ball to deep centerfield allowing Morlock to score and Anfield to move to third. Beccue then doubled home Anfield and scored himself on Ron Harnack's drive into right-centerfield, for a two-run homer.

Lansing staged a late eighth inning rally but could put together only two runs. Shaper went all the way for the Tigers, allowing but six hits. However, his lack of adequate control in the early part of the game accounted for some of their early runs via the base-on-balls route. This Sunday the Tigers will play Oak Forest, on the Oak Forest diamond at 2:30.

Tinley Girls Defeat Crete; Lead League

The Tinley Park girls ball team took a full game lead over Kankakee and North Harvey last week when it beat Crete 18 to 13 in a game played at Memorial park in Tinley.

This was the seventh win for the Tinley club as against one defeat. The Tinleys rapped out 17 hits as compared to five for the losers with Micky Yunker the winning pitcher.

Crete made the most of its opportunities, one might say, in piling up 13 runs. Lack of control by Micky plus a flock of errors by her teammates accounted for most of Crete's runs.

The Tinley ga's will meet the second place Kankakee team next Wednesday night, Aug. 15 at Memorial Park. A win by Tinley at that time will virtually clinch first place for the locals, it was said.

Judy Gray bagged her fourth homer in the game with Crete, Eileen Bochman her third and Diane Albright her first.

Nothing takes to the road like a Chevy!

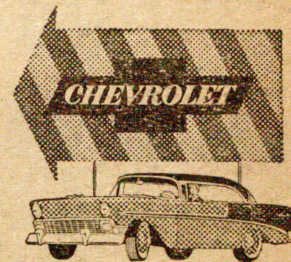

Once in a blue moon a car like this comes along—a design so advanced in performance, so beautifully balanced that it stands out above every other car on the highway.

It has a solid, sure-footed way of going that makes driving safer and more pleasant on any road. And you feel a very special sense of security in its rapid-fire responsiveness to your touch on the wheel, brakes and accelerator.

You can see that the '56 Chevy is a stand out for style. But until you have driven on you're missing the best part of the news—the fact that Chevrolet is the smoothest, solidest, most wedded-to-the-road automobile you ever bossed. Try it and see.

You get more car when you buy it... more dollars when you sell it! Chevy has the highest resale value of the leading low-priced models!

America's largest selling car—2 million more owners than any other make!

Scientists Develop New Pen Improvement

Here's good news for gift givers! There's a radical new improvement in fountain pens, making them more desirable gifts than ever before. Waterman engineers have developed a new system, illustrated above, for filling fountain pens by simply slipping an unbreakable plastic cartridge of fresh ink into the barrel.

As you can see, neither hands nor pen tip touch the ink with the new Waterman C/F (cartridge-filled) pen — messy ink bottle filling is eliminated.

A pen that needs no ink bottle! What will they think of next?

NOTICE

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Pursuant to law in such case made and provided, public notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendment to the Illinois Constitution will be submitted on a separate blue ballot to the electors of the State of Illinois for adoption or rejection at the General Election to be held on November 6, 1956.

REVENUE
AMENDMENT
Article IX

Sec. 1 The General Assembly may define and classify property for taxation, but all such definitions and classifications shall be reasonable and be based solely on the nature and characteristics of the property and not on the nature, characteristics, residence or business of the owner or the amount or number owned. All real estate shall constitute one class, except that lands used for forestry purposes and mineral rights in land may be classified separately. If any class of property is taxed by valuation, such tax shall be uniform as to the class.

Sec. 2 The General Assembly may levy or authorize the levy of such other kinds of taxes as it may deem necessary, which shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, but shall not levy or authorize the levy of a graduated income tax.

Sec. 3. The property of the State, counties and other municipal corporations, both real and personal and such other property, or part thereof, as may be owned by or held in trust for, agricultural or horticultural societies, non-profit hospitals or schools, religious institutions, cemeteries, or charitable institutions and used exclusively for one or more of such purposes, may be exempted from taxation; but such exemption shall be only by general law. In the assessment of real estate incumbered by public easement, any depreciation occasioned by such easement may be deducted in the valuation of such property. This section shall not deprive the General Assembly of power to classify property for taxation as provided in section 1 of this Article.

Sec. 9. The General Assembly may vest the corporate authorities of cities, towns and villages with power to make local improvements by special assessment, or by special taxation on contiguous property, or otherwise. For all other corporate purposes, all municipal corporations may be vested with authority to levy and collect taxes subject to the restrictions of sections 1 and 2 of this Article.

Sec. 10. The General Assembly shall not impose taxes upon municipal corporations, or the inhabitants or property thereof, for corporate purposes, but shall require the corporate authorities to levy taxes for the payment of liabilities incurred under authority of law. Private property shall not be liable to be taken or sold for the payment of the corporate liabilities of a municipal corporation.

Section 13 of Article 9 of this Constitution is revealed.

Form of Ballot

The proposed amendment to Article IX will appear upon the constitution ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTIONS 1, 2, 3, 9, and 10 of ARTICLE IX AND FOR THE REPEAL OF SECTION 13 OF ARTICLE IX

(Revenue Amendment)
Explanation of Amendment

This amendment would revise Section 1 of Article IX of the State Constitution so as to permit the General Assembly to classify property for tax purposes, subject to the following restriction: (1) the classifications are to be based on the nature and characteristics of the property and not on the nature, characteristics, residence or business of the owner or the amount or number owned; (2) all real estate is to constitute one class, except that lands used for forestry purposes and mineral rights in land may each be classified separately; and (3) if any class of property is taxed by valuation, such tax is to be uniform as to the class.

This amendment would also revise and simplify Section 2 of Article IX, dealing with the levy of miscellaneous types of taxes, but would require such taxes to be uniform as to the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax. The levy of a graduated income tax would be forbidden.

Other changes are merely routine. This amendment revises Section 3 to require ownership or its equivalent—and not mere use—as a basis for exemption of charitable, religious, and other similar property from taxation. In addition, non-profit hospitals would be added to the list of institutions and purposes for which the General Assembly may grant tax exemption by general law.

Section 9 and 10 would be revised to subject the taxing powers of cities and other local governments to the same restrictions as apply to the General Assembly. The language in regard to obligations of these governments would be broadened, requiring them to levy taxes not merely—as now—for "debts contracted" but rather for "liabilities incurred."

This amendment would, in addition, repeal obsolete Section 13, which was adopted in 1890 to authorize the corporate authorities of Chicago to issue Columbian Exposition bonds.

Grant Park Concerts to End Sunday, Aug. 19

Grant Park concerts, presented by the Chicago Park District each summer since 1935 for the enjoyment and relaxation of thousands of Chicagoans, will come to a close Sunday Aug. 19. There will be four concerts the last week with a slight variation in the usual schedule; instead of a Saturday concert there will be a Thursday program.

Joseph Rosenstock, distinguished conductor of international fame, will direct all four concerts. The Wednesday, August 15, symphony program will have the overture to "The Merry Wives of Windsor" by Nicolai, and Beethoven's Symphony No. 7 in A major as the orchestral numbers.

Soloist will be Carroll Glenn, one of the leading women violinists of the present day; she will be featured in Richard Strauss' Concerto for Violin and Orchestra.

Miss Glenn will appear again on the Thursday, Aug. 16, program, playing the Bruch Concerto No. 1 in G minor. The symphony program will have the Tchaikovsky Symphony No. 5 as the major orchestral selection; other numbers will be "The Roman Carnival" overture by Berlioz and Dances from Marosszek and Kodaly.

A gala climax of the 22nd season of Grant Park concerts is anticipated with the presentation of a concert version of the well-loved Puccini opera "La Boheme." Lucine Amara, leading soprano of the Metropolitan opera, who is famous in the role of "Mimi," will make her first Grant Park appearances when she sings that role in "La Boheme" Friday, Aug. 17. "Musetta" will be sung by Jacquelynne Moody, leading coloratura soprano of the New York City Opera; "Rodolfo" will be sung by Barry Morell, one of the new male stars of the New York City Opera who has won fame in this role; and Cornell MacNeil, leading baritone with the New York City Opera, will sing the role of "Marcello."

Two outstanding Chicago singers will appear in "La Boheme." Miles Nekolny, 5053 S. Lawler, will be heard as "Schaunard." Mr. Kekolny, winner of the 1955 Young Artist Award of the National Federation of Music clubs, sung with the Chicago Lyric Opera and the New York City

Opera in Chicago. Earlier this season at Grant Park he sang the role of "Escamillo" in the Chicago Park District Opera Guild presentation of excerpts from "Carmen"; he was also featured in excerpts from the opera "Eugen Onegin."

Andrew Foldi of 1415 East 57th st., basso, will be heard in the role of "Colline." Mr. Foldi has appeared widely in oratorio, recital and opera throughout the country. He sang with the Chicago Lyric Opera the past two seasons. At Grant Park he has been heard often in operatic presentations. He is a lecturer at the University of Chicago; is cantor and music director at Temple Isaiah Israel; and director of the Opera Workshop and a member of the voice faculty at DePaul University.

Grant Park concerts start at 8 p.m. and there is no admission charge.

Peaches Good For Canning

Plump peaches are versatile fellows. They always taste good fresh. And canned, they're still flavorful, nutritious and a colorful addition to cereals, salads or desserts.

Peaches are one of the easiest and best fruits to can. And Elbertas, which are now plentiful, are a good variety for home canning. For a fine-quality products, Geraldine Acker, University of Illinois foods specialist, says to select firm-ripe peaches that are uniform in quality. They should have a creamy background color; green shows that the fruit is not ripe.

Half a bushel, or 24 pounds, of fresh peaches will make about 10 or 11 quarts of canned fruit.

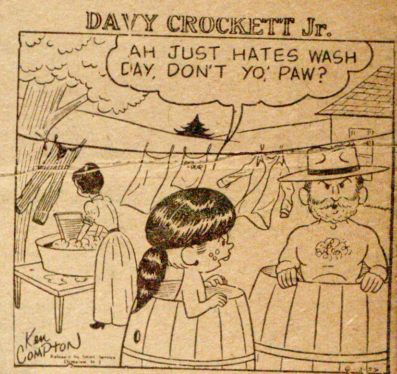

Although either a hot or cold pack is satisfactory for canning, the hot pack will give a more solid pack because the fruit shrinks in the first heating.

For the hot pack, simmer the peaches 3 to 5 minutes in a 20 or 30 percent sirup (one-half cup sugar to one-third cup sugar to one cup water). But don't cook until soft. Pack into containers, placing cut side down and overlapping the layers for uniform appearance. Fill containers with boiling sirup. Process in a boiling water bath for 20 minutes.

For the cold pack, place the peach halves pit side down in jars, making a firm, uniform

YOUR KITCHEN-10 degrees cooler-WITH A NEW ELECTRIC RANGE!

The happiest surprise a woman gets with her new electric range is that her kitchen stays cool in hot weather... even if the oven's on for hours!

The reason: a modern electric range keeps your kitchen about 10 degrees cooler. Why? It keeps the heat in the oven where it belongs.

But electric ranges offer many other advantages. Today, nothing cooks faster! And many have thermostat-controlled surface units that put an end to pot watching. And they are cleaner to cook with. Your kitchen stays about twice as clean.

You'll also find scores of "new idea" features. There are automatic roast meters, French-door ovens, built-in rotisseries, and many more. See them now at your electric appliance dealer's. Find out how easy it is to have a modern electric range in your kitchen.

Big saving—we pay part of your range installation cost!

Need modern wiring? We share the cost with qualified home owners in 1, 2 and 3-family dwellings.

And you get more than a money saving!

Modern wiring helps improve your TV picture, brightens lights, makes everything electrical work better. You can also install a 240-volt electric dryer, water heater or air conditioner quickly and cheaply. The Share-the-Cost Plan is available on terms of up to 2 years.

Orland Boys' 4H News

Preparation for the 4H Fair to be held in Chicago Heights Aug. 17, 18, and 19 was the main topic discussed at a meeting of the Orland Boys' 4H club held at Maue school, Monday evening, July 30. The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance, Darrell Erickson, vice president, presiding. Walter Bernard, leader, checked transportation arrangements and reminded members to have their livestock tested and to send in their entry cards.

Some donations for fair tickets were turned in and more orders for club shirts were taken.

The next meeting will be Aug. 13, which will be the last meeting before fair time. All record books are to be brought for mind that anyone who drops out after June 1, because he does not check. Members are again reminded that anyone who drops out after June 1, because he does not check. Members are again reminded that anyone who drops out after June 1, because he does not check. Members are again reminded that anyone who drops out after June 1, because he does not check.

The following members gave talks on their projects: Rodney Knieriem, chickens; Arthur Walker, heifer; Ronny Sons, swine, and Melvin Yunker, calf. Refreshments were served by Bob Birja and Rodney Knieriem. Walter Reeves, club reporter.

Alpine Girls' 4H News

Preparation for the South Cook County Achievement meeting to be held in the village hall at Homewood, July 31, was of chief concern at the meeting of the Alpine Girls' 4H club held in the Maue school, Monday evening, July 30.

The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance. Sandra Felsch presiding. Exhibits, including those shown the next day at Homewood, were on display. Arlene Andresen gave a talk on grooming and Patsy Felsch gave a demonstration on a balanced meal. Elaine Yunker entertained with a piano solo and Marie Meier and Carla Mrosek gave a report on the keeping-fit field day.

Mrs. Owen Maue assisted as leader in the absence of Mrs. Harwood Stelwagen.

Refreshments were served by Karen Potlek, Donna, Bonny, Shelby and Rose Rector.

The Alpine Girls' 4H club and mothers were well represented at the South Cook County Home Economics 4H club achievement meeting held in the village hall at Homewood, July 31.

Ratings on projects exhibited are not yet available, but it appears that the girls were awarded a goodly number of gold stars.

Mrs. Owen Maue represented Mrs. Harwood Stelwagen, leader, in her absence, at the achievement meeting.

Robert Stelwagen returned Friday evening from the 4H wildlife camp in Montecello, where he spent the past week.

Edward Mrosek, Sr. attended a meeting of the 4H Fair board held at the Farm Bureau in Tinley Park, Friday evening.

Members of the Orland Boys' 4H club made a project tour to the homes of the various members, Sunday afternoon. It was nice to see so many fathers out. Projects seem to be shaping up nicely. Ronald Sons' seems to be the only one that presents any kind of a problem. He raised four pigs and since one looks fine as the other he doesn't know which three to take to the fair. At the Matulis home the group was treated to pop refreshment.

Does the slickest, cleanest picking job you ever saw

New Idea 2-row mounted picker averaged 17% less corn loss in 1955 contests

Yes, you, too, can get more corn from the field with this 2-row mounted picker.

Farmers' choice. NEW IDEA pickers are favored by farmers throughout the corn belt because they get more corn from the field. And here's proof.

17% less corn loss. You just can't afford not to own a New IDEA picker. Why? Because average corn loss of 25 New IDEA pickers in 1955 picking contests was actually 17% less than average corn loss of 73 competing machines. This 2-row mounted picker has all the features that helped establish this record.

Fits most tractors. Remember, too, that this mounted picker fits 30 different tractor models. No other mounted picker fits so many tractors.

Only Store In Tinley Catering Exclusivley To Decorating Needs

by Anne Rodger

Dick Walker, owner of the Walker Paint and Wallpaper Center at 17727 Oak Park ave. opened his business last April in Tinley Park because he felt a store of this type was needed to serve the decorating needs of this fast-growing community of individual home-owners.

The store, which carries all major and sundry decorating items, is the only one in Tinley catering exclusively to this type of trade.

Besides all types of paint and allied products, an extensive selection of wallpaper is available. The store owner has been in this type of business for a number of years.

He was born in Chicago. His family later moved to East Chicago, Ind., where Dick attended public schools. Before and after serving in the last World War, he attended Indiana University. A navigator in the air force, he served in the Mediterranean, African and European theaters.

The paint store owner lives at 15030 LeClaire ave. with his wife Betty, daughters, Carol, 10, Cathy, 6, Debbie, 3 and son Jeff, 5.

He is a member of the Tinley Park Retail Merchants Council. For relaxation, he likes to fish and golf.

Kruspe had quite an experience with a deep fry, which overheated and blew heated oil over a large area of the kitchen. The wall cabinets were scorched as well as rugs which she threw over the fryer.

Keaster, the commission's executive secretary, announced today. State law provides that food price surveys be made at least twice a year.

The June survey revealed a rise in food prices of 3 per cent or more over current allowances in all but 11 counties. Counties in which the rise was less than 3 per cent and in which, accordingly, no increase in food allow-
